Portion of Hanalei Base Yard, Hanalei Neighborhood Center parking lot closed due to construction

HANALEI – County officials are announcing that a portion of the Hanalei Base Yard and Hanalei Neighborhood Center is closed for construction work.

The scope of work includes improvements and construction of the Hanalei Base Yard flood mitigation project and community playground.

Work is scheduled on weekdays, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. This portion of the project is estimated to be completed in November 2022.

Funded via Act 35, the project's contractor is Unlimited Constriction Services, Inc., and design consultants include Marc Ventura Architect and Kodani and Associates.

The $4.8 million project includes improvements to the base yard's infrastructure, office space for county departments, and garage space for equipment. Additionally, through a partnership with the Hanalei Initiative, Hanalei-to-Haena Community Association, and a community design committee, a public playground will be built next to the Hanalei Neighborhood Center.
